Plumbers' Strike in Wilmington.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Wilmington, N. C., January 2.—On the eve of cold weather. Wilmington is in the throes of a plumbers' strike. The walkout occurred to-day, when the members of the local union of journeyman plumbers, gas-fitters and steam-fitters' helpers refused to work unless an eight-hour day instead of inne hours, and $4 per day instead of inne hours, and $4 per day instead of $3.15, be granted. This the master plumbers refused, and the strike was acclared.

Somehow or other a truce seems to have been declared in Virginia League basebail matters. Whether it be the calm before the storm or whether it calm before the storm or whether is be simply that most of the supplies we been exhausted, is not definitely own. That much mooted meeting the National Board of Arbitration is about to be field, and it may be that in view of the impending orders which will be issued by that body, the opinion of the scribes is being for the nonce, at least, withheld.

Lew Shaw showed a large audience last right what he could do on a billiard table in the way of trick silots, both with a cue and with his fingers. The exhibition was staged at the Newport. (ed those who watched were astonialled at the dexterity of the expert. He has in his reportoire all manner of shots, from the draw-follow to the more mysterious and difficult masse. Shaw will exhibit at the same place to hight at 8 o'clock, but will not confine himself to the billiard table. He will show a number of trick shots on a phool table, including his famous fourteen-ball shot. Special space is reserved for women, who are especially invited to attend.

E. C. Landgraf writes in that things are not as idle in the United States League as appears on the surface. He says that reports emanating from sev-eral quarters are misleading, and that his organization will be in the field all right. He 's now in the West, but will be in Richmond in a few days to close negotiations for the park and to tell the people of Richmond just what they can expect from him.

First basemen are wanted in the big leagues. George Cowan once played first base for Richmond, and there's no good reason why he should not apply. Also Jay Ganzell, he with the conspicuous absence of hirsute adornment. Dobson might also get in line.

One of Several Important Matters Before National Baseball Commission.

Cincinnati, O., January 2-With four of the most important cases that were ever brought up before it at any one time, besides numerous small cases to be decided upon, the National Baseball Commission will go into session here to-morrow morning that promises to make baseball history.

Probably the most important bustness to be discussed will be the scan-dal over the scalping of tickets at the last world's series

The chairman of the commission, August Herrmann, intimated to-day that quite a deal of new evidence has accumulated, and that a definite finding may result.

Another big league matter will be the threshing out of the Roger Bresnahan-Charles Murphy episode. Breznahan insists that Murphy used language to him at the New York meeting of the National League that calls for a public apology. The argument is said to have arisen over Bresnahan's refusal to waive claim on First Baseman Saire, of the Chicago Nationals.

The schedules, which were made up at French Lick Springs last week, are ready for adoption, and these will be signed by the league presidents and announced.

Mand Powell's Recifal.

The following statistics secured from the president of the Sheltering Arms Hospital, for whose benefit Mand Powell will appear in the City Auditoirum Thursday night, will give an idea of the great work this Institution is doing. During 1907 the hospital treated 150 patients with a total of 3.934 days of treatment, the cost per patient being $1.38.

In 1911 the number treated were 485 with 7.690 days of treatment, while in 1910 the minimum cost per patient was the low figure of 91 cents, this being considered a record for the United States. There are 114 doctors practicing within its walls. And it is their universal opinion that the hospital is one of the best managed institutions in the country. The sale of seats for the concert is reported to be very large.

Mr. Forbes, who is the author of "The Traveling Salesman" and "The Commuters," has created a new character to the stage in Patricia O'Brien. A novel feature of the play is the second act, which shows the chorus room of the Broadway Theztre, New York, with the show girls of a big musical production "making up" for the performance. In this act are some of the brightest lines of the piece, and in which "Pat" "gets back" at some of her enemies. The production will be of unusual merit and the company one of the best.

The mombers of the Richmond firm will at once get in touch with the authorities and prepare the case. They will then ask Governor Mann, as the law directs, to send some judge from a distant part of the State to Alexandria to hear all the issues without a jury, and to decide upon the expediency and necessity for the proposed annexation, if any exists.

The case of the Commonwealth sgainst the law is mandatory in such matters, and it will be necessary for Governor Mann to choose a judge from some point very distant from Alexandria. He will therefore probably go to Southwest Virginia to get one, ait though this is a matter that is left entirely in his discretion.
